Abstract:
Goddess Iunit had a localized importance in The Theban region. Iunit was incorporated into the local ennead of Karnak in the New Kingdom. Along with the goddess Teieneyet, she was venerated as the consort of the ancient falcon war god Montu of Armant (Hermonthis). She was mentioned in the Pyramid texts. The female deity Raet also known from the Theban region, related to Iunit.

The research aims at:
1- Studying the representations and scenes of goddess Iunit in the temple of Edfu.
2- Studying her important Roles in the temple.
3- Illuminating her relation with other gods and goddesses in the temple.

Key Words: Iunit _ Edfu _ Middle Kingdom _ New Kingdom_ Tienenyet _ Greco- Roman Period.

Introduction:
Iunit "Iwny.t" was a solar goddess and a member of the great and small ennead of karnak.(1) Her name means " she – of - Armant " . Although the goddess first appears in reliefs dated to the reign of Mentuhotep II and Mentuhotep III of the 11th dynasty, (2) it is thought that she may have been worshipped there from very early time.(3) The fourth upper Egyptian nome was her cult center specially at the temples of Armant, Tod, Deir - el madienh, khonso, Opet, Dendara, Philae and Edfu,(4) where it appeared in many places with different forms for writing her name.(5)
